Political Lobbying & Media Relations (PLMR) is celebrating this week after being presented with the 'Best Employer' award at this year's Lambeth Business Awards. Ranging from Central London to Croydon with quarter of a million inhabitants and almost 10,000 businesses, Lambeth is rated as one of the best Boroughs for enterprise in the country¹

In a Ceremony hosted by broadcaster Ronke Phillips at the British Oval Cricket Ground, the growing agency was also highly commended in the 'Best Customer Service' category against stiff competition.

PLMR has gone from strength to strength over the last twelve months, more than doubling their number of employees and extending their outreach into new sectors. Integral to this sustained growth has been the provision of training, support and unique opportunities for all members of the team.

The Founder and Managing Director of PLMR, Kevin Craig, is a lifelong resident of Lambeth and, as well as supporting staff members to do work placements abroad, he also gives 5% of the company's net profit to a local Lambeth community project.

On receiving the Award, Kevin Craig said:

"This has been a tough year for all small companies and we are absolutely delighted to accept this Award and be recognised in the Best Customer Service category.

"Lambeth is a great place to do business and PLMR is extremely proud to be based here.

"I am profoundly grateful to those I work with for all that they do. "
